ANNUAL REPORT
2016 - 17

FOREWORD

It has been eleven years of working together and creating change that has paved way for more resilient and visibly empowered communities. Synergy Sansthan had started with 3 passionate young people working at the grass-root level. Today, the organization has 30 dedicated staff members working in the core areas of Child and Youth interventions.

Keeping in mind our long-term vision for the future of the organization, our approach has been to first thoroughly understand the socio-economic background of the community in Harda district. Having faced numerous challenges over the last few years,

I am proud to acknowledge that it is the youth who have turned dreams of Synergy into reality.

The Youth Resource Centre started by Synergy in the year 2014 has attempted to empower the youth living in the nearby communities through the Entrepreneurship Development Program (EDP). The goal of the program is to facilitate social change by mentoring youth in Harda. We have received a phenomenal response to this program and are of the belief that social change leaders are in the making.

Our organization has been an active advocate against child labor and has undertaken interventions to curb the same. Synergy's Child Rights Interventions have impacted 500 children this year.

Hereby, I express my heartiest gratitude to all those who have contributed to the growth of Synergy, directly and indirectly. I am also grateful to the organizations who have guided us throughout the implementation of our programs. Last but not the least, I must thank the partners of Synergy for their continued support to our initiatives. With sincere regards, I would like to share the annual report of Synergy 2015-16 with you.

LEGACY NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAMME

Legacy National Education Programme was partnered by Synergy from January-March 2016 with a view to improving access to education for marginalized children in Bhopal and Rajgarh districts of Madhya Pradesh.

OBJECTIVES

- To provide support to young people from poor and excluded communities to complete university education
- To support government elementary schools to provide quality, non-discriminatory and universal education
- To strengthen school governance systems in target schools
- To reduce the number of children participating in child labor and increase ex-child laborer enrolment and retention rates in elementary schools in the target areas

LEGACY NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAMME

REACH

15 villages in Rajgarh district
30 slums in Bhopal district
40 schools in Bhopal district
20 schools in Rajgarh district

ACTIVITIES

Identification and selection of young people from poor and excluded communities for university education

Capacity building and orientation of School Management Committee and Panchayat representatives on RTE and Child Rights
Identification of children engaged in child labour and integrating them into the education system

Bal Panchayat formed at school level to ensure child participation in schools

Retention and Enrolment drive to track and reduce dropout rate

LEGACY NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAMME

The slum is an unorganized slum setup since 20 years with approximately 800 households with inmates majorly comprising of Muslims and unprivileged backward groups indulging into occupation on daily wage basis. The children of the inmates are involved into child labour and other petty works for contributing in the financial aspects of their families. Due to the unavailability of schools and lack of proper education facilities most of the children especially girls have never gone to schools.

Due to frequent dropout and absenteeism of the children it was assessed and found that the school was at distant location i.e 3Kms away and according to the RTE guidelines it should be accessible within 1Km range. With frequent interventions and efforts the primary school running in private building of New Subash Nagar has been successfully relocated to Ravidas Colony which will be further shift to Arjun Nagar Maida Mill on the Government approved land. The head master Ms.Azarha Sultan with continuous efforts and in support of the community approached the Government departments requesting the relocation of the school to the safe place close to the communities which is easily accessible to the children. However the efforts went ineffective due to the lack of attention and interest from the Government officials.

When the Legacy programme started in the community the team initially formed an SMC (School Management Committee) and with the help of this committee strongly approached to the Vidhayak, Parshad, DEO and other government officials in order to successfully get the school shifted to Ravidas colony which would be further relocated to Arjun Nagar Maida Mill to the government approved land where a new school will be constructed at the earliest whose budget has already been sanctioned.

Since the budget for the school construction has been sanctioned the team is looking forward for the immediate start of the construction work so that the children can avail proper infrastructure and education facilities at the door step.

UDAAN FELLOWSHIP

Udaan is a year-long fellowship for young girls. The focus of our work is for the participants to be strongly rooted in knowledge & understanding of their own selves, their strengths & weaknesses, their rights, their values, their culture and their environment.

Having thus taken the initial steps of self-transformation, we then encourage participants to expand their circle of influence and develop ideas for impacting their communities as well. This process of self-discovery and leadership development helps them to learn how to enjoy life and eventually builds local role models of transformation. This is the 'Strengthening Roots, Spreading Wings' approach of the Udaan Fellowship.

Through multiple touch points like workshops, peer groups & mentoring, we enable the participants to truly see how gender socialization pervades their daily lives and encourage them to challenge some of the social norms which may be holding them back.

UDAAN FELLOWSHIP

MANJU DHAK

Manju recently completed her Post Graduate Diploma in Rural Development (PGDRD) from IGNOU. Her own experience of gender discrimination, when she was duped into getting married, has informed the way she perceives independence. Manju is working with tribal women (age group of 18-35) of Devigad Village (Jhabua), who are forced to migrate in order to fulfill the financial needs of their families. Manju is trying to prevent this migration from happening in the first place by developing access to different avenues for livelihood. To start with, she created a list of women who are likely to migrate this season, followed by organizing them into groups. She is trying to explore different livelihoods options for these groups and connecting the groups with different government run entrepreneurial schemes such as sewing-stitching training; organic farming training; cottage industry training etc. These women are also finding a space through these groups to discuss various social and personal issues of their own on which they might also take action such as dowry, and domestic violence.

RADHIKA

Radhika belongs to Rahatgaon village of Harda district. She is associated with the youth resource center in Rahatgon run by Synergy Sansthan for the last one year. She realized that in the past one year she had broken lots of identity-related stereotypes, which gave her the confidence to undertake the Udaan fellowship. Through the Udaan fellowship she wanted to restart her own education and also work for drop out girl's

MAMTA

Mamta has fought great odds throughout her growing up years for her access to livelihood and education. A self defence trainer herself, Mamta has a brown belt in Karate. She has setup a centre where girls come and learn the art of self defence through karate, as well as have a space to share their issues and learn self-reliance. This space fosters a positive atmosphere and helps boost the confidence among young women. Mamta is also trying to create livelihood options for these women through her skill in bamboo jewellery making.

SAFE CITY PROGRAMME

Safe city initiative is a community-based effort to make the city free of violence against women. The program aims at allowing women and girls freedom of movement in public spaces without the fear of harassment. UN Women's Global Flagship Initiative, 'Safe Cities and Safe Public Spaces' builds on its 'Safe Cities Free of Violence against Women and Girls' global program, with leading women's organizations in slums through support organizations.

It is a unique initiative of Synergy Sansthan along with UN Women aimed at preventing sexual violence in urban public spaces, through strategic alliances with communities and local service providers, empowering women and girls.

An important element under this program is the formation of 'Shourya Dal', a group comprising of men and women from within the community forming a club with the objective of creating a women-friendly environment in the society to facilitate economic empowerment. The Dal functions on the principle of community partnerships for curbing violence against women and for the expeditious resolution of such cases.

CHILD LABOUR WORKSHOP

In 11 cases an employers have been charged with fine and amount given to children engaged in labor work under CLPRA Act. Dialogues with family and panchayat, vigilance committee and ICPS committees are continuously going on for follow ups of the children. The reprisal of these legal actions in the area can be seen as many children have been transferred to other place and it becomes difficult to trace them.

It might be possible that they have been shifted to more detrimental situation. Hence, we are in continuously dialogue with family along with responsible district administration for rehabilitation of children for their positive development

Dialogue with Commissioner, Labour Department and ex-members of State Child Rights Protection Commission has been done for development of SOPs for CBL. This year we will put emphasis on SOPs development.

State level Orientation and consultation was organised with active participation of around 50 representatives from CWC, JJB, SJPU, ICPS, Anti Trafficking cell and civil society members. The experience and data along with gaps and challenges were shared in the consultation. The detailed advocacy plan was developed at the end. The discussion on use of JJ act and BL act to address the issue was also done.

CHILD LABOUR WORKSHOP

A ten days long awareness campaign on CBL has been carried out in 40 villages of Harda and Khandwa district. This campaign helped in spreading awareness about Child rights and CBL. Different communication mediums such as street play, focused group discussion, public meetings, meetings with panchayat representatives were used to impart information on CBL,

Public Hearing on RTE and CBL: State Public Hearing was organised to share Child Bonded Labor cases to the government. Commissioner labor Department along with Labor Officer was present in the hearing. After listening to the cases the commissioner accepted the existence of BL in the area and assured action to address the issue. We also recommended for the development of SOPs for CBL cases. Regular dialogue is continue with department for state specific SOPs.

STORY OF MUKESH

Mukesh, son of Gangaram Gond belonged a family of bonded labourers. Their family comprised of 4 members. Their family had taken a loan to build a small house but his father was unable to find meaningful employment. To repay the debt taken by them to construct the house; Mukesh started working a labourer at Mr Gajanand Patel's place who was paid 1 quintal of wheat as his salary and had to work for 12 hours everyday.

Hi day used to start at 6am when he milked the buffaloes and took them out for grazing. He would then look after them till 12,30 and head to farm to deliver lunch to the farmers. At 2pm he would take the buffaloes back to the village for grazing and look after them till 9pm. He would eat his meals just once a day and worked with his schedule for 2 years. He would also help in cutting and transporting the grains during the harvest season.

in 2014, the organisations started sensitising people in 8 villages in Harda district against child labour. During one such sessions, Mukesh came up front and registered for his case to be considered. Their petition was submitted to the Zilla Panchayat officials and later to the Human Rights Commission. HRC directed the government to officially investigate the issue.

On 15 April 2015, the official investigating team from government side directed Mr Gajanand Patel to pay minimum wage to Mukesh for his labour. They did not recognise his as a child labourer. At the moment he is living with his parents.

STORY OF RINKI

A journey for young people, which will equip them to take charge of their body and lives and take effective decisions in order to address the issue of Early Child Marriage.

After being a part of YIC, first time I got a chance to talk to the community members and understand them. Before I used to be scared of talking to strangers, but now I can talk to the members of the community. I used to think a lot and hesitate before speaking, but now I am confident of my opinions. This change came into me when I got a chance to work with and talk to the community. After this I got many chances to know and understand myself and telling and showing my capabilities in front of others. I got a chance to be a part of capacity building workshop for the youth. I came to know many different capabilities of the youth members, knew each other better and also made many new friends.

I never thought before that one day I will be a part of ICS Program. Going to different countries and different states of India and living and learning with different youth members is my dream. In these few days I saw, observed and learned a lot which has now become a part of my life. By being a part of these programs, besides seeing a change within me, I also see a change in my parents. Before I used to be scared of keeping my view, but now I speak it and is also being understood. Before I used to feel unsafe while coming out of the house, but now I have confidence and also support from the family and I can go out anywhere.

STORIES OF CHANGE

SUNITA

As a member of Panchayti Raj Institution of Jhadbeeda, I feel after being associated with Synergy Sansthan we are able to better connect with the people in the village and educate them of child rights and importance of good education. It has not helped the children in the village but the adults too and they are consciously trying to keep up with times and modify their ideas.

Women also feel more confident about talking about their problems and children have become more unified than before. We are grateful for their intervention in our village and the transformation they have brought about.

ANJALI (YRC)

When I look back at my journey with Synergy which started as a volunteer I can see the difference in myself. I have become more confident and empowered than before. Before being a part of Youth Resource Centre , I did not talk a lot to people and always felt shy before approaching people but now I am a different person.

YOUTH EXCHANGE PROGRAMME

ANNA

Coming to India has always been a dream of mine, but the experience I have had here has surpassed anything I could have possibly imagined. I thought I'd like the food, scenery, culture and people before I came so it was no surprise to me that once I got here I really did love them all. What I had never anticipated was the sheer amount I would learn about myself and the beauty of life itself. The people who have shown me the beauty of life most are the five children who live next door to my family.

I have learnt so much from the people here, probably more than they could ever learn from me. The sense of community, family and love which is shared in this village is none like I have ever seen before. They have shown me the beauty that the gift of life simply is. That all we need is ourselves, each other and love and nothing else. With this we can be forever happy and peaceful. If I can manage to be anything like the kids are here when I go home or further on in my life I will have achieved so much more from this experience than I ever thought I could, and I will be so happy with that.

SONU GAUR

My association with Synergy started as a volunteer. Being a part of an organisation that works for ushering social change and child rights makes me feel good about my work. It has also helped in my personality development. I feel more confident about myself than before and I am sure that I can bring about a positive change in my town.

I come from a tribal village which is around 70km away from Harda. There were lot of restrictions on me because I am a girl and I was not encouraged to interact freely or engage in recreational activities. After being associated with Synergy I have become more independent. I am no longer hesitant in approaching people and I take my life decisions on my own. I staying away from my family and am able to manage living on my own which I feel very proud of.

BABITA PRADHAN

STORIES FROM THE FIELD

Premlata

I am currently studying in standard 10 and am resident of Jhallar village. My father is paralysed and it was very uncertain if I could continue with my education or not. When Synergy Sansthan started their work in our village, they first explained the scope of their work and I felt very encouraged. I participated in the activities they held for children in the village and volunteered to teach others as well. I was able to confidently tell my parents that I want to study further and why education is very important. I would not have been so confident in saying this without Synergy.

STORIES FROM THE FIELD

Child Groups

In 12 slums in Harda district we have created groups for children aged 8-16 where each group has 12-16 children. These children collectively work towards developing a friendly atmosphere in the slum. They teach their contemporaries of the child rights and also encourage others to participate in the activities conducted by the organisation. They also identify children who do not go to schools and encourage their parents to send them to schools. These children educate others about Right To Education and are always vigilant towards the happenings in the locality.

STORIES FROM THE FIELD

Village Transformation

Small village of Jatrapadaav in Harda district has seen transformation in terms improved status of women and children in the village. It is dominantly a tribal village and women in the village undertake small projects like weaving baskets, brooms and men craft musical instruments. It is also very susceptible to flooding due the presence of Ajanol river. Most of children in the village had dropped out of school and were doing small jobs. They were also getting attracted to substance abuse and alcohol.

Our programmes there focused on creating awareness among the villagers about child rights, importance of education, and right to education. The children in the village have started going to school and are leading the way to other behavioural change in the village.
